NBN Co appeals CPI decision

NBN Co, the company building the National Broadband Network today lodged an appeal in the New South Wales Court of Appeal regarding the CPI adjustments under the 2011 Definitive Agreements.

The dispute concerns the correct contractual interpretation of the Definitive Agreements, and in particular the date from which CPI adjustments are to be made to the infrastructure prices applicable under the Infrastructure Services Agreement from its commencement.

NBN Co spokesperson Karina Keisler said:

“NBN Co has carefully considered a range of factors in deciding on this course of action, including the potential impact on taxpayers of the Judgment at first instance.”
